

Female Genital Mutilation Awareness

This programme will provide a thorough guide to help those working with young people spot the signs that Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) has taken place, or signs that it will take place. The key aim here is to help professionals understand the risks and consequences of FGM, and how to act if they suspect a girl is in danger.

Key features

- Level 2 programme (as graded against the nationally accepted levels for training programmes).
- One module with a multiple choice questionnaire.
- One CPD hour with a personalised downloadable certificate.
- 70% pass mark.
- Optional narration of each module for accessibility.
- Printable modules for future reference.
- Interactive design to engage learners.
- Accredited by Secured by Design and meets national Police approved standards.

Programme objectives

This programme provides a thorough understanding to anyone working with children and young girls.

1. Understand what the law states regarding FGM and the mandatory reporting duty.
2. Learn the prevalence, consequences and different types of FGM.
3. Recognise the signs that FGM has taken place, or signs that a girl is at risk.
4. Learn the roles and responsibilities of professionals.
5. Understand the importance of working together.
